Not a Paying Scheme.

When the railway rate regulation matter began to be agitated some time ago the railway companies got together and organized a bureau for the dissemination of information for the purpose of giving their side of the story. Their information was gotten out in the shape of a small book each week and these pamphlets were sent to the newspapers throughout the country with the permission to publish anything that they desired to that was found in these pamphlets.

The scheme has been abandoned and it is said that it cost the railroads $2,000,000 and did a whole lot of harm and little or no good.

There are a lot of dishonest men in the world, but the ordinary man who is plugging along and paying his way as he goes generally wants to see everybody have fair play. The great mass of voters is composed of these ordinary men and they want to see fair play, and if given a chance, they will generally come to the right conclusion in the matter.

At the same time they like to see their own thinking and decide for themselves what they consider is right and wrong. When somebody forces his views on them they generally come to the conclusion that he is wrong and is looking for something for nothing and that he is not a voter. It seems as if that was the way with the literature that was sent out by the railroads.

The average man wants to see the railroads have fair play, but when he sees a bureau established and millions of dollars expended for the purpose of influencing people to think as they do, they immediately come to the conclusion that there is a nigger in the fence somewhere and instead of having the effect that was intended just the opposite condition is produced.

The ordinary man knows that he has nobody with millions to see that he has fair play in the laws that are passed, and he does not like to see anybody else favored in that manner. The consequence was that there was very little of the railroad stuff published and it is doubtful if it would have any effect on the common people if it had been. We all recognize the value of the railroads and we want to see them have a square deal, but we do not want them to get any the best of the argument if it is possible to prevent it.

Training School Idea Does Not Take with the County Board.

One of the important matters that was brought up before the county board at the present session was the erection of a building for the accommodation of the Wood County Teachers' training school and an agricultural school.

The committee that had the matter in charge thought that it would require the sum of twenty five thousand dollars to erect such a building as was necessary for the purpose stated, but it seems that the members of the board, especially those from the north end of the county, did not think so, and the consequence was that they sagged back to the money very decidedly when the matter was brought up.

Just why they opposed the establishment of a county educational institution cannot be told at this time, but it is supposed to be because it was proposed to locate it in the southern part of the county. It certainly could not be because they did not think it was a good thing, for if there is any benefit to be derived from such an institution it would be to the rural districts.

The teachers who graduate from such places invariably go to teach in country district schools so that the children of such a school get the advantage of the higher education. Another fact is that the greater number of the students in the county training schools are young ladies who are from the rural districts. Many of them could not afford to attend a far away college or university, but by the establishment of the county training school they are enabled to better their education sufficiently so that they are able to hold a much better position than they could otherwise and command a better salary.

The Marshfield members gave as their reason for opposing the measure the fact that it had been sprung on them suddenly and that they did not know how their constituents would feel about the matter and that it would be necessary for them to talk the matter over with their people before they could vote intelligently on the subject.

Since the training school was established in this city it has proven a great success. The room in which the school has been held has been crowded at all times and there have been more applications than could be accommodated. These facts go to show that there is a decided demand for the school. The county superintendent speaks most highly of the work done by the graduates from the school, and he is certainly in a position to say whether it is a benefit or not.

As it was evident that the matter could not be handled intelligently on such short notice it was referred to the committee for further consideration. The committee consists of Messrs. E. P. Arpin, E. C. Poir, Geo. Brown, P. N. Christensen and Henry Porbus.

The Potato Situation.

Buyers in this city are paying fifty cents a bushel for potatoes, and those who are engaged in the business do not seem to think that the price is going up very materially just at present. The price has gone up as high as sixty cents at times during the past couple of weeks, but buyers say that this was a fictitious value and not to be relied upon. Buyers are of the opinion that there are more potatoes in the country than the amount that is being brought in would indicate.

For some time past business in this line has been quite brisk, but just at present it is reported that receipts are rather slow. So far the market has been very firm and notwithstanding that the receipts have been large, the demand has been strong enough to keep the supply cleaned up.

Notice to Farmers.

For some time past the proprietors of the Tribune have been receiving complaints from patrons on rural routes about not getting their Tribune on time or else not at all. It is the endeavor of the proprietors to get the paper to subscribers as soon after it is published as it is possible to do, and in the case of those who get their mail on routes that start from this city they should get it on Thursday, and if they do not do so an effort will be made to rectify the trouble that is delaying its delivery. There are a large number of our patrons who are situated on rural routes and whose paper goes to the postoffice with no other mark except their name, which may in some instance delay matters. Where there is a case of this kind that the patron has trouble the matter will be corrected if this office is notified.

The Correct Time.

A. P. Hirzy has recently purchased a chronometer and has placed the same in his window where anybody who wishes may secure the correct time when they pass and if they desire may regulate their watches to a nicety. Mr. Hirzy has been using the electric service since it was installed in this city, which regulates the clock in the store every hour but while this averaged up well in the long run, it did not prove satisfactory for regulating watches. Any accident to the electric service threw the clock off and the consequence was that one was never certain just how matters stood.

Is Proving Successful.

A. W. Rich of Milwaukee was in the city for a few hours yesterday and while here he paid the Tribune office a pleasant call. Mr. Rich is the man who has established a Jewish colony at Arpin, and he was on his way to that place when here yesterday.

Mr. Rich reports that his colony at Arpin is getting along nicely and that there is every evidence that the members will make a success of the enterprise. He states that it is expected that each farmer will have at least ten acres cleared by next spring and that the coming summer they will be able to do something in the way of farming in a small way. Many of them made an effort to raise some farm stuff last summer, and they did so to a limited extent, but now ground, a heavy soil and a very wet season made it rather discouraging. Those who are in the colony, however, are in the best of spirits, and instead of feeling the least discouragement, they are more confident than ever of success. One gratifying fact that has come to Mr. Rich's notice is the circumstance of two brothers who are in the colony having induced another brother to come there and locate, the third brother being fairly well to do, but after visiting the colony, decided to locate there.

Mr. Rich now has eleven families in his colony, and has room for seven more. He does not take anybody who makes application to him, but selects each family with great care, making sure that the head of the family is an able bodied man who has a desire to succeed in life. The scheme is not exactly a charitable one, as all Mr. Rich desires to do is to get his families so situated that they will be able to make a living for themselves and eventually pay back the money that has been lent to them.

It is a pet scheme with him and he wants to make it such a success that it will show a practical method for benefiting the poor of the world, and the establishment of libraries and the endowment of colleges, as is the practice of some of the rich men who are making a heroic effort to perpetuate their memory.

Might Stop the Hunting.

The Nekosia Times says that one good way to reduce the liability of accidents during the hunting season would be to subject each applicant for a hunting license to a rigid examination as to his ability to properly handle fire arms, also to make certain that the would-be hunter is in full possession of his faculties. Now the first part of his advice is all right, but it might be well not to hear down too hard on the latter clause. We have often thought that a man who would lug a gun around from break of day till dusk ever had something the matter with his mental machinery but we never had the nerve to come out in print and advise that he have his head examined by the county officers, because it might cause hard feelings, but maybe the Nekosia man is right.

Will See Sarah Bernhardt.

Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Witter and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Moad left on Sunday evening for Chicago for the purpose of seeing Sarah Bernhardt, who is in that city all this week. Sarah Bernhardt is making a tour of the United States and appearing in most of the large cities. Some of the papers announced that it was a farewell tour, and Sarah took offense at this statement, and it is reported that she has sued some of the papers for damages. Sarah is only in the early sixties, just in the hey day of life, as it were, and it would certainly be a slender to insinuate that she was making a farewell tour at this early stage of the game.

Why Newspaper Editors Get Rich.

After a good deal of study and work it has been figured out why so many country editors get rich. Here is the secret of success. A child is born in the neighborhood, the attending physician gets $10, and the editor gives the loud-voiced and the "happy parents" a send-off and gets $0. It is christened, the minister gets $10, and the editor gets $00. It grows up and marries; the editor publishes another long-winded flowery article and tells a dozen lies about the "beautiful and accomplished bride," the minister gets $10 and a piece of cake, and the editor gets $000. In the course of time it dies, and the doctor gets from $25 to $100, the minister perhaps gets another $15, the undertaker gets from $50 to $100; the editor publishes an obituary two columns long, lodge and society resolutions, a lot of poetry and a free card of thanks and gets $0,000. No wonder so many country editors get rich.—Paperdom.

ARE ALL RIGHT

Indications are That Our City Schools Will Average up Very Well.

If there is any doubt in the mind of any of our people as to how our city schools rank in the estimation of outside educators, the following letter from one of the principal ones in this locality should be calculated to set their minds at rest on the subject. The letter is as follows:

Supt. H. S. Youker, Grand Rapids, Wis.
Dear Sir:—Replying to your favor of Nov. 14, I take pleasure in saying that the graduates of the Grand Rapids high school who have entered this school have made a very excellent record. They seem to have come, not only with good preparation in several subjects required as preliminary to a normal school course, but they have also evidently acquired habits of study which count far more than preparation in a particular subject. Those now in the school are doing very well indeed. The standard of Grand Rapids high school, measured by the students who have entered at Stevens Point, is very creditable to the community that evidently supports and backs up a good school. An examination of the records shows that for some years back a failure in any subject is very rare indeed.

Very truly yours,
T. H. Pray.
As a large number of the students from this city have attended the Stevens Point Normal at different times and there are now four from this city attending that institution, it is evident that Prof. Pray should be in a position to speak intelligently on the subject.

Study Social Problems of Large Cities.

Forty students of sociology at the University of Wisconsin under the direction of Professor Jerome Dowd are spending this week in studying sociological conditions in Chicago and Milwaukee. The purpose of the trip is to acquaint the students of this subject with the sociological problems of the large cities and the practical methods employed by the important social, penal and charitable institutions in dealing with these matters. The party will inspect the industrial school for boys at Waukegan, the county hospital and poor house at Wauwatosa, and the University of Wisconsin social settlement in Milwaukee. Among the places they will visit in Chicago are the Hull House settlement, the Chicago Commons, the Cook County Hospital, the Bureau of Identification and the Salvation House.

Study Operation of Large Plants.

Thirty members of the senior class of the college of engineering of the University of Wisconsin under the direction of three professors are spending this week inspecting important engineering plants in the east. This trip, which is taken annually, is designed to familiarize the students with the operation of large electrical and machinery plants of the country. Two days will be spent at Niagara Falls and Buffalo, visiting the Niagara Falls and the Canadian power companies which utilize the water power of the falls; the Lackawanna steel works, and the large elevators and dry docks at Buffalo. At Pittsburgh the party will inspect the Westinghouse electric, machine and air brake plants, the large window and flint glass manufacturing, the Norwalk Electric Lamp company, the Fraxed Steel Car company, and other large electrical machinery companies. The itinerary will also include the Brooks Locomotive works at Dunkirk, Pa., and the large iron mills and furnaces at Homestead and McKeesport, Pa.

Must Wear Better Clothes.

The Milwaukee Free Press says that passenger conductors and brakemen on the Wisconsin Central are up in arms because of a recent order promulgated from headquarters to the effect that conductors must provide themselves with at least five uniforms a year and the brakemen with four. The men say they cannot afford so many clothes on their present salaries, $125 per month for conductors and $75 for brakemen. They will ask for an increase to $150 and $85, respectively. The matter has been referred to the Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the demand for an increase in the salaries has been presented to them by the Central officials, who have taken it "under advisement." The original order is said to have been issued for the purpose of insuring proper neatness on the part of the trainmen.

Teachers to Meet at Madison.

The second meeting of the teachers of the city and political science in the college and normal schools of the state will be held at Madison at the University of Wisconsin on November 21. The program will include a reception to be given by Professor V. C. Munroe of the department of history of the university with an address by Professor Andrew C. McLaughlin of the University of Michigan on some American constitutional problems on Friday evening, and an informal discussion of topics pertaining to the teaching of history and political science in higher institutions of learning, on Saturday morning.

Kennedy-Dougal.

Cards are out announcing the coming marriage of Miss Louise Dougal and Edward G. Kennedy, which occurs on Tuesday evening, November 28th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Duman, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Kennedy is well known in this city, having formerly lived here. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will make their home at 1814 Park, S. D.

Thanksgiving Dance.

There will be a dance at the open house on Thursday evening, November 30, Thanksgiving night, at which it is anticipated there will be a good time. Koln's orchestra of seven pieces has been engaged to furnish music for the occasion, and there is no doubt but what this part of the entertainment will be all right. Tickets will be one dollar per couple.

T. A. Taylor, E. Oberbeck, C. F. Kellogg, T. A. Lipke and W. F. Kellogg are in Milwaukee this week. Messrs. Taylor and Lipke are taking a few degrees in the Consistory and the remainder of the party are there to help them along in the good work.

County Judge W. J. Conway returned from the north on Monday evening, where he had been hunting deer. He reports that his party of men had succeeded in killing five deer when he left. The remainder of the party expect to return home tomorrow evening.

Mrs. E. W. Christian of Neokosa was in the city on Monday shopping and calling on friends. Mr. and Mrs. Christian expect to leave next week for Chicago where Mrs. Christian will undergo a surgical operation, after which she expects to spend the winter with relatives in Utah.

Dr. F. D. Humphrey has removed his office furniture from the Wood County National Bank building preparatory to leaving the city, which he expects to do as soon as he can close up his business here. Dr. Humphrey will be taken by Drs. Blanchard and Rockle.

Among the prizes offered at the Grand Rapids stock fair held last Tuesday were these: "A first of best sample of potatoes; one eighth of bush for farmer that has the most kids." This will help some to encourage careful potato cultivation and to discourage race suicide.—Neokosa Times.

Peter Brown of Snohomish, Washington, has been in the city this week visiting with old friends. Mr. Brown formerly lived here but for a number of years has made his home in the state of Washington, and notwithstanding that he thinks there is no place like the west, he likes to come back here occasionally to shake hands with his old friends.

R. R. Harvey returned on Monday evening from his trip to the northern part of the state, where he had been hunting deer. He brought with him two monstrous deer which he had killed with his little automatic rifle. This was Dick's first deer hunt, but if you want to know anything along this line just interview him on the subject, as he can tell you all about it.

Ernest Thompson Seton entertained a large audience at the opera house on Friday evening, and gave them a very entertaining lecture. Those who had attended with the expectation of hearing a lecture on natural history, were disappointed, but those who have read Mr. Thompson's books knew what to expect and were greatly pleased with the manner in which the subjects were presented.

Any person who imagines that the deer in northern Wisconsin are about exterminated should have seen the bunch that came in to the United States express office on Tuesday morning. There were twenty four carcasses lined up there on the sidewalk, and they certainly made quite a showing. Most of them were just of average size, although one was quite a magnificent specimen.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hodge, who have made their home in this city during the past summer while Mr. Hodge was engaged in drilling operations in Rudolph, expect to leave on Monday for Marquette, where they will make their home. Long-year and Hodge have abandoned their prospecting in the town of Rudolph without having discovered any deposit of iron ore.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Eggert left on Monday for the south where they expect to spend a couple of weeks looking over the country. They left Chicago on an excursion that will visit the principal cities in the south with a view to allowing those in the party to see not only the agricultural resources but also the manufacturing plants in that country. The excursion is one gotten up more especially for real estate men.

R. B. Johns of Wausau and D. E. Davis, of Progress, in company with County Superintendent Morris, were pleasant callers at the Tribune office this morning. The gentlemen were in town to attend the convention of district school officers. Mr. Davis being the school clerk from his neck of the woods, while Mr. Johns is in charge of the agricultural school at Wausau and has a paper before the meeting today.

Rev. Dean, the new pastor of the church of Christ is conducting a series of meetings in the G. A. R. Hall that are attracting considerable attention. Those who have heard Mr. Dean's sermons speak of him as a minister of more than ordinary ability. He was first educated as a minister of the Christian church, and his practice in that capacity, together with his long college training and pastoral work, especially fits him to deliver logical and interesting sermons. He is being assisted in the special meetings by Clinton R. Sealock, a leader of song from Eureka, Ill.

The members of the Women's club in this city are figuring on having Prof. Seymour here for a series of lectures during the ensuing winter. Mr. Seymour appeared in this city in a series of lectures two years ago, and he then impressed the people with his ability in this line. Unlike a large number of public lecturers, Mr. Seymour does not have to confine himself to one subject, but can handle a large number and do it in a manner that cannot be excelled. It is to be hoped that the ladies succeed in securing his services.

President Roosevelt has not given up his idea of eliminating the brutality from the game of football. The president says that the man who would break the rules of football should be treated the same as a man who cheats at cards. We have always understood that the man who was cheated at cards always pulled out his revolver and blew the top of his opponent's head off. This might be a little strenuous for a game of high school football, but there is no question but what it would prove effective, and that in a very short time the game of football would be as quiet and orderly as the average game of Sunday afternoon croquet.

Enlarge Their Cemetery.

The members of S. S. Peter and Paul congregation recently purchased four acres of land just to the north of their cemetery from the Rector property, and this land will be made a part of the cemetery. The price paid was $45 an acre. This congregation has had workmen at work in their cemetery during the past two summers and the consequence is that the place has been improved greatly.

Case Was Adjourned.

Gust Hawes and Garrett Loomans were arrested on day last week on complaint of Albert Schumaker, who claimed that the men were hunting on his land, which he had posted with signs to prevent hunters from entering the premises. The case came up before Judge Brown on Friday, but was adjourned for one week.

Directories Out.

The city directory that has been recently compiled in the city, is out. The book itself is better than printed and bound, being very neat in that way than was expected. Of course there are errors in the book which to the average man might seem inexcusable, but considering that it is the first book of its kind to have been issued here and also that the houses have not all been numbered it is a good job and worth the price that is charged for the book. The directory will be a very handy article for all business and professional men and will no doubt come into very good use in a short time. The book is well supplied with advertising matter, which shows the book well supported by the business men. The company intends to issue a second directory in two years which will no doubt be free from a great many mistakes that were unavoidable this time. On the whole the book is better than was expected and ought to have a large sale.

Lost an Eye.

Charles Passano lost an eye on Sunday while out shooting with a target rifle. He was using a .22 calibre rifle and during the shooting, one of the shells refused to enter the chamber of the gun perfectly and while trying to force it into place, it exploded. The shell burst and a piece of the brass struck him in the eye. He was taken to Riverview hospital where an operation was performed, but as soon as an examination had been made, it was found impossible to save the sight.

Woman Pleads Guilty.

Mrs. Minnie Krems, the Stevens Point woman who shot another woman in that city some time ago, appeared before the circuit judge last week and pleaded guilty of the charge of assault with intent to kill. The penalty in the case is from one to five years in the penitentiary. She has not received her sentence at this time.

Mrs. Krems was jealous of the Peterson woman, whom she thought her husband had been paying attention to. The Peterson woman had been running a restaurant and Mr. Krems had been taking his meals there a part of the time.

Governor Calls Special Session

Governor LaFollette has called a special session of the legislature, same to convene on the 4th of December.

Among the things to be considered will be a communication from the governor relative to the United States governorship, the question of the state capitol, which cannot be rebuilt until the present law and other matters.

It seems as if this action on the part of the governor was wholly unlooked for, as senator Wiperman of this city did not know anything about the coming session until the announcement was made public.

Not a Paying Scheme.

When the railway was regulation matter began to be agitated some time ago the railway companies got together and organized a bureau for the dissemination of information for the purpose of giving their side of the story. Their information was gotten out in the shape of a small book each week and these pamphlets were sent to the newspapers throughout the country with the permission to publish anything that they desired to that was found in these pamphlets. The scheme has been abandoned and it is said that it cost the railroads $2,000,000 and did a whole lot of harm and little or no good.

There was a lot of dishonest men in the world, but the ordinary man who is playing along and paying his way as he goes generally wants to see everybody have fair play. The great mass of voters is composed of these ordinary men and they want to see fair play, and if given a chance, they will generally come to the right conclusion in the matter. At the same time they like to do their own thinking and decide for themselves what they consider is right or wrong. When somebody forces his views on them they generally come to the conclusion that he is wrong and is looking for something for nothing and it antagonizes the voter. It seems as if that was the way with the literature that was sent out by the railroads.

The average man wants to see the railroads have fair play, but when he sees a bureau established and millions of dollars expended for the purpose of influencing people to think as they do, that there is a ulterior in the fence somewhere and instead of having the effect that was intended just the opposite condition is produced.

The ordinary man knows that he has nobody with millions to see that he has fair play in the laws that are passed, and he does not like to see anybody else favored in that manner. The consequence was that there was very little of the railroad stuff published and it is doubtful if it would have any effect on the common people if it had been. We all recognize the value of the railroads and we want to see them have a square deal, but we do not want them to get any the best of the argument if it is possible to prevent it.

Training School Idea Does Not Take with the County Board.

One of the important matters that was brought up before the county board at the present session was the creation of a building for the accommodation of the Wood County Teachers' training school and an agricultural school.

The committee that had the matter in charge thought that it would require the sum of twenty five thousand dollars to erect such a building as was necessary for the purpose stated, but it seems that the members of the board, especially those from the north end of the county, did not think so, and the consequence was that they sagged back in the matter very decidedly when the matter was brought up.

Just why they opposed the establishment of a county educational institution cannot be told at this time, but it is supposed to be because it was proposed to locate it in the northern part of the county. It certainly does not seem to be a good thing, for if there is any benefit to be derived from such an institution it would be to the rural districts.

The teachers who graduate from such places invariably go to teach in country district schools so that the children of such a school get the advantage of the higher education. Another fact is that the greater number of the students in the county training schools are young ladies who are from the rural districts. Many of them could not afford to attend a far away college or university, but by the establishment of the county training school they are enabled to better their education sufficiently so that they are able to hold a much better position than they could otherwise and command a better salary.

The Mansfield members gave as their reason for opposing the measure the fact that it had been sprung on them suddenly and that they did not know how their constituents would feel about the matter and that it would be necessary for them to talk the matter over with their people before they could vote intelligently on the subject.

Since the training school was established in this city it has proven a great success. The room in which the school has been held has been crowded at all times and there have been more applications than could be accommodated. These facts go to show that there is a decided demand for this school. The county superintendent speaks most highly of the work done by the graduates from the school, and he is certain in a position to say whether it is a benefit or not.

As it was evident that the matter could not be handled intelligently on such short notice it was re-referred to the committee for further consideration. The committee consists of Messrs. E. P. Arpin, E. C. Poir, Geo. Brown, P. N. Christensen and Henry Forbes.

Is Proving Successful.

A. W. Rich of Milwaukee was in the city for a few hours yesterday and while here he paid the Tribune office a pleasant call. Mr. Rich is the man who has established a Jewish colony at Arpin, and he was on his way to that place when here yesterday.

Mr. Rich reports that his colony at Arpin is getting along nicely and that there is every evidence that the members will make a success of the enterprise. He states that it is expected that each farmer will have at least ten acres cleared by next spring and that the coming summer they will be able to do something in the way of farming in a small way. Many of them made an effort to raise some farm stuff last summer, and they did so to a limited extent, but now, when a heavy soil and a very wet season made it rather discouraging. Those who are in the colony, however, are in the best of spirits, and instead of feeling the least bit discouraged, they are more confident than ever of success. One gratifying fact that has come to Mr. Rich's notice is the circumstance of two brothers who are in the colony having induced another brother to come there and locate, the third brother being fairly well to do, but after visiting the colony, decided to locate there.

Mr. Rich now has eleven families in his colony, and has room for seven more. He does not take anybody who makes application to him, but selects each family with great care, making sure that the head of the family is an able bodied man who has a desire to succeed in life. This colony is not exactly a charitable one, and Mr. Rich desires to do is to get his families so situated that they will be able to make a living for themselves and eventually pay back the money that has been lent to them.

It is a pit scheme with him and he wants to make it such a success that it will show a practical method for benefiting the poor of the world; one that will prove more effective than the establishment of libraries and the endowment of colleges, as the practice of some of the rich men who are making a heroic effort to perpetuate their memory.

ARE ALL RIGHT

Indications are That Our City Schools Will Average up Very Well.

If there is any doubt in the mind of any of our people as to how our city schools rank in the estimation of outside educators, the following letter from one of the principal ones in this locality should be calculated to set their minds at rest on the subject. The letter is as follows:

Supt. H. S. Young,
Grand Rapids, Wis.
Dear Sir:—Replying to your favor of Nov. 14, I take pleasure in saying that the graduates of the Grand Rapids high school who have entered this school have made a very excellent record. They seem to have come, not only with good preparation in several subjects required as preliminary to a normal school course, but they have also evidently acquired habits of study which count for more than preparation in a particular subject. Those now in the school are doing very well indeed. The standard of Grand Rapids high school, measured by the students who have entered at Stevens Point, is very creditable to the community that evidently supports and insists upon a good school. An examination of the records shows that for some years back a failure in any subject is very rare indeed.

Very truly yours,
T. B. Pray.

As a large number of the students from this city have attended the Stevens Point Normal at different times and there are now four from this city attending that institution, it is evident that Prof. Pray should be in a position to speak intelligently on the subject.

Must Wear Better Clothes.

The Milwaukee Free Press says that passenger conductors and brakemen on the Wisconsin Central are up in arms because of a recent order promulgated from headquarters to the effect that conductors must provide themselves with at least five uniforms a year and the brakemen with four. The men say they cannot afford so many clothes on their present salaries, $125 per month for conductors and $35 for brakemen. They will ask for an increase to $150 and $60, respectively. The matter has been referred to the Order of Railway Conductors and Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and the demand for an increase in the salaries has been presented by them to the Central officials, who have taken it "under advisement." The original order is said to have been issued for the purpose of insuring perpetual neatness on the part of the trainmen.

Teachers to Meet at Madison.
The second meeting of the teachers of history and political science in the colleges and normal schools of the state will be held at Madison at the University of Wisconsin on November 24. The program will include a reception to be given by Professor D. C. Munro of the department of history of the university with an address by Professor Andrew C. McLaughlin of the University of Michigan on some American constitutional problems on Friday evening, and an informal discussion of topics pertaining to the teaching of history and political science in higher institutions of learning, on Saturday morning.

Kennedy Announced.
Cards are out announcing the coming marriage of Miss Louise Douglas and Edward G. Kennedy, which occurs on Tuesday evening, November 28th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Dunn, of Washington, D. C. Mr. Kennedy is well known in this city, having formerly lived here. Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will make their home at St. Louis, Mo.

Thanksgiving Dinner.
There will be a dinner at the opera house on Thursday evening November 23, Thanksgiving night, at which it is anticipated there will be a good time. ## The Potato Situation.

Buyers in this city are paying fifty cents a bushel for potatoes, and those who are engaged in the business do not seem to think that the price is going up very materially just at present. The price has gone up as high as sixty cents at times during the past couple of weeks, but buyers say that this was a fictitious value and not to be relied upon. Buyers are of the opinion that there are more potatoes in the country than the amount that is being brought in would indicate.

For some time past business in this line has been quiet, but just at present it is reported that receipts are rather slow. So far the market has been very firm and notwithstanding the fact that the receipts have been large, the demand has been strong enough to keep the supply cleaned up.

Notice to Farmers.

For some time past the proprietors of the Tribune have been receiving complaints from patrons on rural routes about not getting their Tribune on time or else not at all. It is the endeavor of the proprietors to get the paper to subscribers as soon after it is published as it is possible to do, and in the case of those who get their mail on routes that start from this city they should get it on Thursday, and if they do not do so an effort will be made to rectify the trouble that is delaying its delivery. There are a large number of our patrons who are situated on rural routes and whose paper goes to the postoffice with no other mark except their name; which may in some instances delay matters. Where there is a case of this kind that the patron has trouble the matter will be corrected if this office is notified.

The Correct Time.

A. P. Hirzy has recently purchased a chronometer and has placed the same in his window where anybody who wishes may secure the correct time when they pass and if they desire may regulate their watches to a nicety. Mr. Hirzy has been using the electric service since it was installed in this city, which regulates the clock in the store every hour, but while this averaged up well in the long run, it did not prove satisfactory for regulating watches. Any accident to the electric service threw the clock off and the consequence was that one was never certain just how matters stood.

Will See Sarah Bernhardt.

Mr. and Mrs. I. P. Witter and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Mead left on Sunday evening for Chicago for the purpose of seeing Sarah Bernhardt, who is in that city all this week. Sarah Bernhardt is making a tour of the United States and appearing in most of the large cities. Some of the papers announced that it was a farewell tour, and Sarah took offense at this statement, and it is reported that she has sued some of the papers for damages. Sarah is only in the early sixties, just in the heyday of life, as it were, and it would certainly be a slander to insinuate that she was making a farewell tour at this early stage of the game.

Why Newspaper Editors Get Rich.

After a good deal of study and work it has been figured out why so many country editors get rich. Here is the secret of success. A child is born in the neighborhood, the attending physician gets $10, and the editor gives the loud youngster and the "happy parent" a good-off and gets $20. It is christened, the minister gets $10, and the editor gets $30. It grows up and marries, the editor publishes another long-winded dowry article and tells a dozen lies about the "beautiful and accomplished bride," the minister gets $10 and a piece of cake, and the editor gets $300. In the course of time it dies, and the doctor gets from $25 to $100, the minister perhaps gets another $15, the undertaker gets from $50 to $100; the editor publishes an obituary two columns long, lodge and society resolutions, a lot of poetry and a few cards of thanks and gets $3,000. No wonder so many country editors get rich.—Paperdom.

By John M. Smith, Professor of Entomology, New Jersey Agricultural College.
(In Warrenton, Mass.)
The Cranberry Girdler, more commonly known as the "girdle worm," is found abundantly in all the cranberry districts, but is seriously injurious in Massachusetts only. The larvae, which are slender, grayish caterpillars, with shining light chestnut-brown heads, and yellowish thoracic shields, pass the winter in a torpid condition within a silken tube or cocoon, which resists the entrance of water. In New Jersey the adults are found in May, and around the edges of the bogs; in Massachusetts they do not fly until July, and there is evidence that the worms do some feeding in spring before they actually change to the pupal stage. This change to the pupal stage takes place in the tuberous cocoon made in the previous fall, and on Cape Cod at the latter part of May or in earlier June. The adult is a pretty little creature, with four wings, expanding about three-fifths of an inch, and is one of the long-antennated moths, the palpi or mouth feelers projecting well beyond the head. The fore wings are rather narrow, very pale straw-yellow in color, with smoky lines in the interspaces between the veins and narrow silvery cross-bands at the outer part, near the margin. The hind wings are much broader and of a uniform silver gray. When the moth is at rest the wings are so closely wrapped around the body that it looks like a narrow whitish cylinder about three-quarters of an inch in length.

The young worm is very active and strong, and at once begins the construction of the silken tube, reinforced by bits of vegetation, in which it lives. It works about the running portion of the plants extending along the surface of the sand in the stratum of fallen leaves which always cover an old cranberry bog and from which the delicate clusters of new rootlets take their rise. Everywhere over an infested area, but especially along the borders, these worms are found in silken tubes, galleries following the prostrate stems of runners, into the surface of which they cut their way, destroying the vital part of the plant and especially attaining to the base of the runners, deeply girdling the stem. They grow rather slowly, and not until November do they make their coarse cocoon of mingled sand and silk that serves as a winter quarters.

It seems probable that in Massachusetts there is only one brood of the moths which are active in July. In New Jersey, on the other hand, the moths have been found in every month from about May 21 to the middle of September. There must be, therefore, at least two broods, which develops very irregularly. With this difference in the life cycle, in the two States there is an evident divergence in food habits, for there is no such destruction of large tracts in New Jersey as is found in Massachusetts. That the insect is not specifically a cranberry feeder has been proved not only by the fact that it occurs not uncommonly many miles away from any cranberry plantation, but also by the direct evidence of an investigator who actually bred it from the common grasses and found further that the worms would eat freely of sheep sorrel. The cranberry feeding habit seems to be, therefore, a somewhat local characteristic and this gives hope that by persistent work this bog variety may be in large part stamped out.

An infested bog is rarely affected over its entire extent. Small areas varying from a few feet in diameter to half an acre or more are found here and there, and sometimes a little patch not only a foot or two across but will remain for two or three years in succession without becoming enlarged, but rather it will become closed up by runners from the adjacent healthy vines. Larger areas tend to become larger, new vines dying from the edges each year. A restart over areas so killed out is very slow, yet it does usually occur after the second year; but the growth is apt to be irregular and requires some time before it comes again into bearing condition.

It is quite obvious that insecticides are not available here, because of the concealed feeding habit, and that resort must be had to more direct methods. Light traps to capture the adults have proved unsatisfactory, very few specimens having been taken in this way. Experiments show that the worm in its silken case will bear submergence in water for over four days without fatal results, and it is known that in its cocoon it bears submergence during the entire winter. But the insect does not make this cocoon until November, and a submergence of five days after the picking is completed destroys a great many. The suggestion is therefore made that, immediately after the fruit is off, infested bogs be flooded and kept covered for at least a week. This should be effective against these worms and harmless to the vines. While the ripening fruit is on, any water covering kept on over twenty-four hours would be apt to do material injury.

An additional suggestion is that the actually infested area be completely burned off as soon as its extent can be determined. The vines already attacked are doomed at best, and if in destroying them the insect can be also killed the loss will be balanced by a greater benefit. For this burning a gasoline torch may be employed, and the heat thus applied directly to the point where it will be most effective. The use of the torch will also prevent setting a fire that might injure other portions of the bog, since it can be used when the vines are, so wet that they will not burn under any ordinary conditions. The burned-over area can be immediately reset and the actual amount of injury limited to a minimum.

If burning is resorted to, it should be done as early in the season as possible and should be extended far enough to cover the entire infested portion of the bog.
Cheney, Cranberry General.
Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 9.—These are lively times with a U. S. office, the cranberry merchant. His office during the past month has been the scene of as much activity as is usually found about the headquarters of a political campaign manager during the closing days of a hard fought battle. Orders for berries are coming from all sides. There are times during the day when borders of messengers are trooping in and out, with wires that come and go, pertaining to the movement of a large portion of the berry crop, which handles are out of all the growing districts.

In the midst of the activity Mr. Cheney directs the rolling of the many cars strong out over the country with as cool a demeanor as a successful general commands the maneuvers of a large army during an engagement. He is continuously in touch with the market all over the land, knows conditions at the shipping points, is fully informed about every car moving, is a walking encyclopedia when it comes to routing and diverting, and best of all he has the confidence of receivers everywhere, so that a two word wire as to price, quality and arrival usually clinches a sale. Early in the season he notified all that berries would undoubtedly go higher, and those that took him at his word and bought have not a satisfactory regret that this is not a satisfactory year. Prices are still on the jump, and the indications are they will go higher as reports of crop shortage continue, while the demand is constantly increasing.—Facker.

E. I. Hensler Co.'s Views
Chicago, Nov. 11.—There is little choice now between cranberries and gold dollars. The truth about the matter is very few cranberries are to be had except from dealers direct who bought them up early in the season. Not a few lots of choice stock have changed hands several times already, and in every instance a profit has been declared. Cape Cod berries are a little difficult to buy at $11 and $12 while Florida command $9 to $11. Jersey Reds are not easy to get at from $10 to $12. McFarland Junco stock sells from $12 to $18, while Bell and Bangle berries must sell at $11 to $12.
Conditions are absolutely reversed now as compared with a year ago. It is an old story that the supply is short. The public is in a humor to buy cranberries and the price seems to cut little loss with people who have money to spend for what they want.
In talking over the cranberry deal a day or two ago, E. I. Hensler Co. said "Our main difficulty just now is to get the stock to supply our demand. We expect cranberries to reach the $15 point by Thanksgiving. The demand is phenomenal. We had expected the public should stop buying so freely as the price went up, but the contrary appears to be true. We regret that there are no more berries in sight than are offered just now. However, we expect to do the best we can by our trade and will sell cranberries as long as we can get them."

Market Form.
The cranberry situation continues remarkably strong, with prices working upward, and no limit in sight except the high prices in checking demand. The public seems to be buying cranberries this season more freely than ever before, regardless of the high prices, while the shortage on the Cape Cod market is certain that there will not be enough fruit left to go around except the advancing prices artificially reduces the requirements. It is merely a question of how much the consumer is willing to pay, as holders are firm in their ideas and confident their asking prices are at an end. The cash side had thus changed the best of English church history.

The Deserted House

(Original)
My automobile was powerful, but the snow was falling fast, and the wind was howling it about wildly. I passed through a village where the lamps shone dimly through the clinging flakes, but they were bright compared with the black road into which I plunged beyond the town limits. My four acetylene lamps forced a circular hole in the darkness, and there would have been no difficulty in my getting on had not the snow increased, while the wind, rising to fury, blew it into drifts. My pace grew slower, and with each drift I was in danger of being initiated. The cold was intense, and I began to grow sleepy.
At last I was stalled. My lamps showed me, not fifty yards ahead, a stone bridge, beyond which the road forked at the foot of a large tree. Beyond on the left fork I thought I saw a light. Cutting on all the force there was in my machine, I plowed through the snow and drew up in front of a massive stone house, with pillars rising the whole height of the building, such a house as was in vogue about 1840.
I rapped with the brass knocker, and a man opened the door. He was not a servant, but a well to do looking person of the country class.
I told him my story, and he invited me to take my automobile around to a shed in the rear and to spend the night in his house. When I returned from the shed, he met me at a back door, behind the snow drift and led me into the living room, where his wife and children were sitting about a blazing wood fire.

There was something pathetic about these people, and for my life I couldn't tell what it was. They were all as white as if they had been long laid and seemed hungry, not for food, for they gave me a supper, never touching a morsel themselves, but for something the nature of which I could not guess. The wife and mother spread her hands before the fire to warm them, and I could see the flame behind, not through red blood, but white flesh. The children, too, had a blue-white look about them that made me cold. I attempted to warm a little girl of six years, seizing her hand, but she quickly drew it away, and I was glad she did, for it was cold and stiff, not the least of it was in softness in it usual to children. I was glad when my host showed me to a sleeping room, and I never had a better night's sleep.

In the night I awoke suddenly with application. A month was given to me, and some one was drawing my breath from my body. I was just in time to place my hands upon a pair of shoulders and feel the figure sway. I could not resist the temptation to feel the pulse, and I found it was a mere flutter. The wife and mother spread her hands before the fire to warm them, and I could see the flame behind, not through red blood, but white flesh. The children, too, had a blue-white look about them that made me cold. I attempted to warm a little girl of six years, seizing her hand, but she quickly drew it away, and I was glad she did, for it was cold and stiff, not the least of it was in softness in it usual to children. I was glad when my host showed me to a sleeping room, and I never had a better night's sleep.

A man might neglect to exercise his working brain forces. He may have ever so quick a mind, but if he does not use his mental machinery the rust of idleness is soon over him.
A man may neglect to use the moral forces that are in him. There is a weakening somewhere. The machine reaches the $15 point by Thanksgiving. The demand is phenomenal. We had expected the public should stop buying so freely as the price went up, but the contrary appears to be true. We regret that there are no more berries in sight than are offered just now. However, we expect to do the best we can by our trade and will sell cranberries as long as we can get them."

Dyspepsia
Post-mortem statistics of the big New York hospitals show that many cases of consumption are due to the interrupted progress of dyspepsia.
Especially is this true in cases where the victim was predisposed to tuberculosis.
Therefore the person who allows dyspeptic conditions to progress unchecked is contributing toward the development of the most fatal disease known to mankind.

This was Dirk's first deer hunt, but if you want to know anything along this line just interview him on the subject, as he can tell you all about it.

Ernest Thompson Seton entertained a large audience at the opera house on Friday evening, and gave them a very entertaining lecture. Those who had attended with the expectation of hearing a lecture on natural history, were disappointed, but those who have read Mr. Thompson's books knew what to expect and were greatly pleased with the manner in which the subjects were presented.

Any person who imagines that the deer in northern Wisconsin are almost exterminated should have seen the bunch that came in to the United States express office on Tuesday morning. There were twenty four carcases lined up there on the sidewalk, and they certainly made quite a showing. Most of them were just of average size, also one was quite a magnificent specimen.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hodge, who have made their home in this city during the past summer while Mr. Hodge was engaged in drilling operations in Rudolph, expect to leave on Monday for Marquette, where they will make their home. Long-year and Hodge have abandoned their prospecting in the town of Rudolph without having discovered any deposit of iron ore.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Eggert left on Monday for the south where they expect to spend a couple of weeks looking over the country. They left Chicago on an excursion that will visit the principal cities in the south with a view to allowing those in the party to see not only the agricultural resources but also the manufacturing plants in that country. The excursion is one gotten up more especially for real estate men.

Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Johnson and D. E. Davis, of Progress, in company with County Superintendent Morris, were pleasant callers at the Tribune office this morning. The gentlemen were in town to attend the convention of district school officers. Mr. Davis being the school clerk from his work in charge of the agricultural school at Wausau and has a paper before the meeting today.

Rev. Dean, the new pastor of the church of Christ is conducting a series of meetings in the G. A. R. Hall that are attracting considerable attention. Those who have heard Mr. Dean's sermons speak of him as a minister of more than ordinary ability. He was first educated as a lawyer and his practice in that profession, together with his long college training and pastoral work apparently fit him to deliver logical and interesting sermons. He is being assisted in the special meetings by Clinton R. Snodack, a leader of song from Eureka, Ill.

The members of the Woman's club in this city are figuring on having Prof. Seymour here for a series of lectures during the coming winter. Mr. Seymour is a native of this city and a series of lectures two years ago, and he then impressed the people with his ability in this line. Unlike a large number of public lecturers, Mr. Seymour does not have to confine himself to one subject, but can handle a large number and do it in a manner that cannot be excelled. It is to be hoped that the ladies succeed in securing his services.

President Roosevelt has not given up his idea of eliminating the brutality from the game of football. The president says that the man who would break the rules of football should be treated the same as a man who cheats at cards. We are always understood that the man who was cheated at cards always pulled out his revolver and blew the top of his opponent's head off. This might be a little strenuous for the game of football, but there is no question but what it would prove effective, and that in a very short time the game of football would be as quiet and orderly as the average game of Sunday afternoon croquet.

Enlarge Their Cemetery.

The members of SS. Peter and Paul congregation recently purchased four acres of land just to the north of their cemetery from the Rector of the cemetery. The land will be made property, and this land will be made property of the cemetery. The price paid was $45 an acre. This congregation has had workmen at work in their cemetery during the past two summers and the consequence is that the place has been improved greatly.

Case Was Adjourned.

Gust Hawes and Garrett Loomans were arrested one day last week on complaint of Albert Schumaker, who claimed that the men were hunting on his land which he has posted with signs to prevent hunters from entering the premises. The case came up before Judge Brown on Friday, but was adjourned for one week.

Entertained Their Friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lynch entertained a number of their friends at a dinner party on Thursday evening at their home on High street. After dinner the guests engaged in playing cards and a very pleasant evening was spent.

Directories Out.

The city directory that has been recently compiled in the city, is out. The book itself is very neatly printed and bound, being better in that way than was expected. Of course there are errors in the book which to the average man might seem inexorable but considering that it is the first book of its kind to have been issued here and also that the houses have not all been numbered it is a good job and worth the price that is charged for the book. The directory will be a very handy article for all business and professional men and will no doubt come into very good use in a short time.

The book is well supplied with advertising matter, which shows the book well supported by the business men. The company intends to issue a second directory in two years which will no doubt be free from a great many mistakes that were unavoidable this time. On the whole the book is better than was expected and ought to have a large sale.

Lost an Eye.

Charles Passano lost an eye on Sunday while out shooting with a target rifle. He was using a .22 calibre rifle and during the shooting, one of the shells refused to enter the chamber of the gun perfectly and while trying to force it into place, it exploded. The shell burst and a piece of the brass struck him in the eye. He was taken to Riverview hospital where an operation was performed, but as soon as an examination had been made, it was found impossible to save the sight.

By order of the W. M. W. A. Bruzuan, Secretary.

Woman Pleads Guilty.

Mrs. Minnie Krembs, the Stevens Point woman who shot another woman in that city some time ago, appeared before the circuit judge last week and pleaded guilty of the charge of assault with intent to kill. The penalty in the case is from one to fifteen years in the penitentiary. She has not received her sentence at this time.

Mrs. Krembs was jealous of the Peterson woman, whom she thought her husband had been paying attention to. The Peterson woman had been running a restaurant and Mr. Krembs had been taking his meals there a part of the time.

Governor Calls Special Session

Governor La Follette has called a special session of the legislature, same to convene on the 4th of December.

Among the things to be considered will be a communication from the governor relative to the United States senatorship, the question of the state capital, which cannot be rebuilt under the present law and other matters.

It seems as if this action on the part of the governor was wholly unlooked for, as senator Wippman of this city did not know anything about the coming session until the announcement was made public.

BABES IN THE WOOD.

A Seventeenth Century Incident in the State of Maine.

In 1670 James Adams of York became affronted with one of his neighbors, Henry Simpson, and determined to avenge himself upon two of Simpson's children, whose ages were six and nine years. In a solitary place some five miles from the dwelling house of the inhabitants he built of logs beside a ledge of perpendicular rocks a pen or pound several feet high, with walls inclined inward from bottom to top. After he had built this he decoyed the children into the woods under a pretense of searching for birds' nests and caused them to enter within the pound, where he left them confined to perish. The place has since been called the Devil's Inventory.

The children were soon missed, and the alarmed inhabitants searched for them more than forty-eight hours. The boys, when aware of their wretched situation, made various attempts to get out, and at length, by digging away with their hands the surface of the earth underneath one of the bottom logs, effected their escape. They wandered in the woods three days, being at last attracted to the seashore by the noise of the surf, where they were found.

The depraved criminal was condemned to have thirty stripes well laid on, to pay the father of the children $5, the treasurer $10, besides fees and charges of the prison, and remain a close prisoner during the court's pleasure or till further order. The same month he recognized before two of the judges, "conditioned to send him, within twenty-one days, out of the jurisdiction."

VESPER.

Henry Smallbrook has gone north for the winter.

John Randall's present home will now be at Rosendale, where he moved to last Monday.

Six or seven of our noisy hunters were out hunting deer last Sunday; but the noise they made was so great, that it has been feared that the deer have fled from this vicinity.

How to Save FUEL

Briefly—buy a Cole's Hot Blast Coal Stove

It cuts the fuel bill in two because it burns the gas, air, and gas goes via the chimney in other stoves. Cole's Hot Blast really makes $1.00 of fuel work like 20 hard coal. Come in and see that smokeless feed dog. Does away with dust, dirt and smoke in the house

LADIES

DR. LAFRANCO'S COMPOUND.

No Poison in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

From Napier New Zealand Herald. Two years ago the Pharmacy Board of New South Wales, Australia, had an analysis made of all the cough medicines that were sold in that market. Out of the entire list they found only one that they declared was entirely free from all poisons. This exception was Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, made by the Chamberlain Medicine Company, Des Moines, Iowa, U. S. A. The absence of all narcotics makes this remedy the safest and best that can be had and it is with a feeling of security that any mother can give it to her little ones. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is especially recommended by the makers for coughs, colds, croup, and whooping cough. This remedy is for sale by John E. Daly Druggist.

CRANMOOR.

The inhabitants of Cranmoor are believers in good roads. With as they are not only a pleasure but a necessity. A great amount of work has been done on them this year and in time we hope to have passable roads the year around. One of the recent improvements on the road to the town is the removal of an old bridge from one point and replacing its utility with a large frame at an other point thus keeping the road from being flooded in high water serving as a outlet for some of the marshes and giving a feeder to others when needed.

Meers James Gaynor and James Emmerich were Grand Rapids visitors on Monday.

Mrs. James Keyes, who has been employed at the Arpa marsh for the past eight months left there for her father's home at Alford on Sunday.

We are all thankful for the Indian summer and late fall that has enabled marsh owners to get their places in good shape before the freeze up.

Miss Margaret Grainger as usual spent the Saturday between school work at her mother's home in Grand Rapids.

Miss Ruth Rezio who is attending the south school enjoyed a visit at home Saturday and Sunday.

With the exception of flooding the work for the season is closed at the experimental station. Mr. Maldo left for the north last week on his return will only be here long enough to close the marsh.

Scar and Guy Potter with Clarence Seale did not get very good hunting ground near Pittsville and have tried a new field.

The Martin Kiewit household entertained the James Ross family Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Cohn and brother Mr. Bick have closed their marsh and taken their departure for Wausau.

PITTSVILLE.

The Royal Neighbors have arranged for a grand Thanksgiving ball at Hoxgess hall, on Tuesday evening, Nov. 20, and the Crown orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for the occasion. The ladies have been busy making plans to ensure the young folks from the neighboring towns and surrounding country a splendid time and special attention will be devoted to them when they come. Without question, it will be the social event of the season and everybody who attends will enjoy the dance and be pleased with the royal entertainment in store for them.

Ellis Murry, who holds a position as the inspector for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, with headquarters at Baltimore, visited his brother, Dell Murry, this week. On Tuesday he left for Kilkbourn to visit relatives for a few days before returning to Baltimore. Mr. Murry recently recovered from a severe attack of typhoid fever and came to Wisconsin to see his relatives before returning to work.

Hugh McLaughlin has a fine buck to his credit this season. He was out with a party consisting of A. V. Austin, Hans Lunde and Bert Knutson on Rocky Run last Sunday when he shot the deer.

Mrs. Emory D. Ayers returned last week from a six week's sojourn on the Pacific coast. Mrs. Ayers was well pleased with the country and enjoyed the trip very much.

NEKOOSA.

(From the Times.)

At the Sacred Heart Catholic church of Nekoska on Wednesday morning, November 22, Robert Salzenberger, a prosperous Grand Rapids barber, and Miss Frances Leach, a popular Nekoska lady will be united in holy bonds of matrimony. Rev. Jos. Feldmann, officiating.

The happy couple will reside at Grand Rapids, where Mr. Salzenberger has a house furnished ready for housekeeping.

It is reported that a morning train will be run to Pittsville beginning next Monday. For the past three months, the morning train out of Babcock made the run to Tomadka first, reaching Pittsville on the return trip about noon. As the train carries the mail it is important that it reach Pittsville in the morning instead of at noon and the change of time card will be heartily approved by the business men of that city.

This week a carload shipment of cutabags went out of Nekoska, bound for Madison, Wis. Swenson, having bought them from farmers in this vicinity and loaded them for a firm located in the capital city. It is said that this is the first big shipment of cutabags from here and no doubt is the forerunner of many more in the future, farmers being well satisfied with the price received.

A successful operation for appendicitis was performed by Dr. Simonson at the Tonnah hospital last week. The patient being Miss Tillie Rutz, of Babcock. Dr. Simonson is one of the foremost surgeons in the region and the Tonnah hospital has gained wide renown because of his remarkable skill in surgery.

F. E. Roberts and Art Cronus returned on Friday from a trip through this part of the state buying chickens of which Mr. Roberts shipped 80,000 pounds to New York and Chicago this fall.

The New Stallion Law.

The new law relating to the standards of stallions for public service in Wisconsin, goes into effect on and after January 1, 1905, and provides that all stallions must be sound and their pedigrees examined and certified by the Department of Horse Breeding of the College of Agriculture at Madison. Each owner of a stallion should at once look up all matters pertaining to the soundness and breeding of his horse; and unless already supplied, should procure from the breeder or seller a certificate showing the registry of the stallion's pedigree in the respective State Book of his breed.

The Department of Horse Breeding will be prepared to examine pedigrees on and after December 1, 1905, and certificates will not be issued to owners before January 1, 1906.

Blankets for certification of soundness, matters relating to ownership and breeding, certification of stallion, etc., will be furnished free of charge to all who apply to the Department of Horse Breeding.

Those who have not already done so should apply for a copy of Bulletin number 127 of the College of Agriculture, which gives the text of the new law in full, a complete list of approved Stallion books, the names and addresses of the secretary of each, and a mass of instructive and profusely illustrated information relative to the principles and practice of horse breeding.

The Station Agent

At Alpena Station

Phil Carlton, who fifteen years ago married a country girl and took a position on the railroad as brakeman. The road ran through a beautiful country. Phil's family lived in a log cabin. Children came plentifully, demanding food and clothes, and life was generally unattractive. Once in five years Phil would make an application for a better position, but three applications only broke the yoke of his position. A new station opened near his cabin with starvation wages. After this he frequently made applications for something better till the appointment became weary of reading them and refused to put a stop to them.

Up the road was a station, Alpena, near which lived a gang of men who succeeded in always getting the best of the way they managed it was this: A grain container with a background of shanty and a sawmill would appear at the station and ask for a ticket. The agent would take the necessary stamping and throw the ticket down, mentioning the amount due. The applicant would pick up the ticket and walk away without making any payment. The agent knew if he declined to submit to this one-sided way of doing business the applicant would poke a revolver through the opening and begin to shoot.

The superintendent on receipt of Phil's last application wrote him that in view of his long and faithful service on the road he was promoted to be station agent at Alpena. The writer chuckled as he dictated the letter and congratulated himself upon not in future being troubled by the language marks' applications. As for Phil, he knew at once that unless he collected the fares he would be removed. He collected them, he must take his chance of being shot. He thought the matter over, resolved to accept the situation and made his preparations accordingly.

Since Phil had been known in the country roundabout as a peaceable, pleasant fellow, so soon as the agent heard of his appointment they made up their minds to make more frequent and longer trips. The second morning after the new agent took his place in the office one of these number walked up to the hole and asked for a ticket.

"Five dollars and thirty cents," said Phil in a forcible voice.

"Gimme the ticket," I don't pay till I get the goods," said the man, lazily drawing a weapon from his hip.

Quick as a flash the revolver was started through the hole from within, a shot rang out, and the applicant for a ticket dropped dead.

There was no one else in the station at the time, and Phil, going to the baggage room, took out an oblong box, put the corpse in it, walked down the track, tied a cord on it on which was written the address of the superintendent and sent it by the next train, with a railway ticket and $5.00 inclosed in an envelope. On a piece of paper he wrote to go with the rest.

"Ticket sold this morning. Not used. Don't know what to do with it, or the money, so forward them to you. Corpses of applicants in baggage car. Phil I kill any more of 'em?"

PHIL CARLTON, Station Agent, Alpena.

When the superintendent read this note and learned from the bearer that there was a coffin shaped box in the baggage room awaiting his orders he was more astonished than if he had been informed that the whole line of the road had been swallowed by an earthquake. He walked the floor for awhile in deep meditation, then took Phil's note to the president.

That afternoon there was a meeting of the board of directors, with the road's attorney in attendance, who assured them that since Phil had not received orders to kill any applicant for a ticket who refused to pay his fare, none of them would be liable to be arrested and tried for murder. Phil was alone responsible, but, considering the lawless state of the country and the character of the unsuccessful applicant for a free ride, it was not believed that the man who had shot him would be molested.

The body was sent back to Alpena for burial, and Phil was directed not to kill any more deadhead ticket applicants.

But Phil did not need to kill any more of them. The others, taking warning from the fate of their companion, found it unnecessary to travel often thereafter on the road and when they did, not being sure but the station practice their former methods, would shoot to kill, always paid their fare on the train. Indeed Phil Carlton's administration of the affairs of Alpena station proved so satisfactory that he was summoned to the main office with a view to taking the line work on and capable of filling some important position. Not being an educated man, this was not to be considered. So Phil was made superintendent of stations at a salary of $3,000 a year. When the lawless citizens along the line interfered with the company's interests he was sent to oversee them. This was all that was required of him, and as his exploit at Alpena had made him famous as a fighter he was never obliged to fight. His presence alone was enough to restore the refractory to their senses.

Gradually the country along the line of the road became civilized, and Phil's occupation being good, he was retired on two-thirds pay. Meanwhile he had earned a comfortable home, which he now owns. His children were educated, and his boy was taken into the railroad service and advanced rapidly.

Gentlemen:

Allow me to say a word endorsing the remarkable merits of your Ruxall "98" Hair Tonic.

My attention was called to this remedy by one of your clerks, who guaranteed beyond question it would stop my hair falling out, and also put my scalp in healthy condition for new hair.

I had your photograph before starting to use it, which shows me to be nearly bald. After using two bottles I saw decided improvement, so continued its use. I have used seven bottles.

This is a remarkable case—an exception will grow hair on every bald head—but we are falling hair, cure dandruff, and give scalp a clean, bring back the bottle, and we'll be
